The lion and the mouse

One sunny day, a mouse was walking along and noticed a lion asleep.

The mouse paused, then walked over, jumped on top of the sleeping lion's back and looked around.

The mouse sat looking around. The lion yawns loudly and wakes up. "Who bothers my nap?" roared the lion. The mouse was very scared.

The mouse pleaded, "Please, Mister Lion. I promise one day I will help you".

The lion let the mouse go.

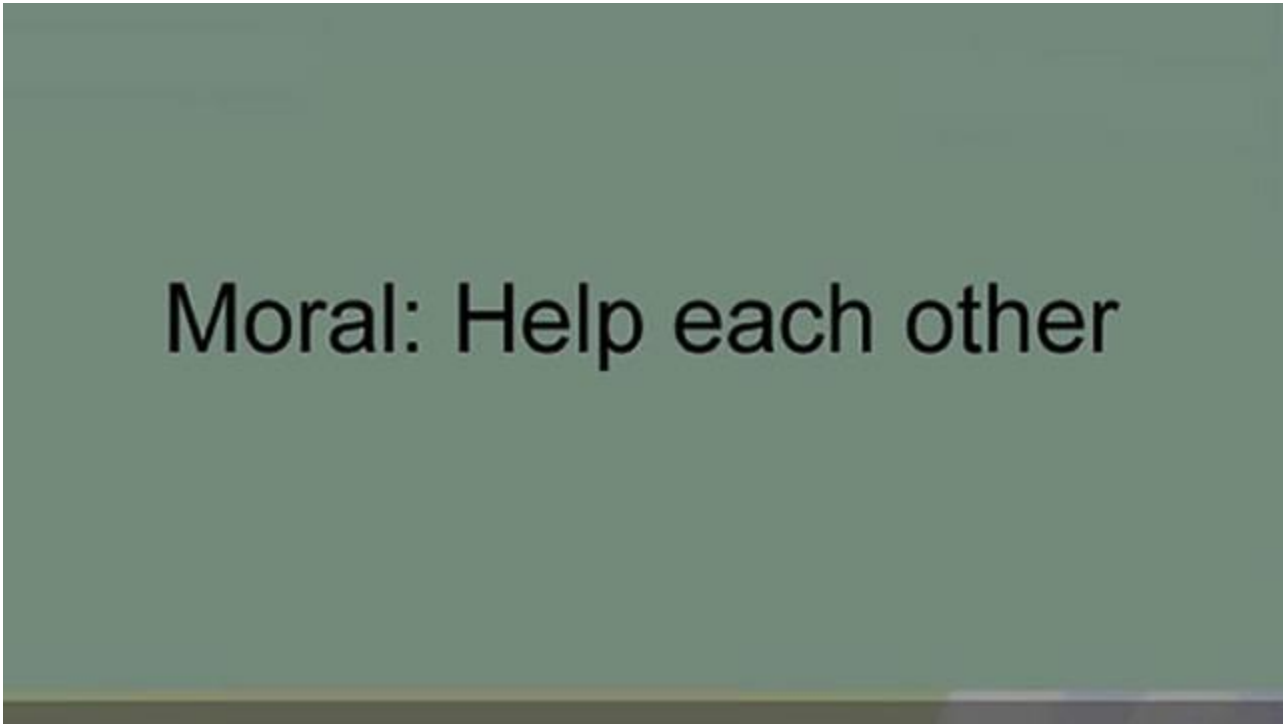
One week later, the mouse saw the lion stuck in the hunter's net very frustrated.

The mouse said, "Don't worry Mister Lion, I will help you."

The mouse climbed up the tree and nibbled the rope with his little teeth.

He nibbled and nibbled and it finally broke.

The lion was free. The lion and the little mouse both ran away. They are now best friends forever.



Moral: Help each other